

DRAFT

1 May 1947

Mr. _____

Dear Mr. _____:

This office has been given an opportunity to review the recent application which you made for a Civil Service examination for a position as librarian with a government agency.

The qualifications shown on your application indicate that you may be interested in certain vacant positions in the library field now available in the Central Intelligence Group, at a beginning salary of approximately $5,900 per year.

These positions are in connection with the development and operation of a comprehensive intelligence library, including quite an extensive business machine operation.

If you are interested in being considered for one of these positions a contact will be arranged for personal interview at a time convenient to you. Please address your reply to _____.

Yours very truly,